RENTAL OF FIRE HYDRANTS. Trouble Caused by Omission of an Amendment to Ordinance.

Amendment to Ordinance.

The discovery was made yesterday at Alton that by the omission of an amendment to an ordinance adopted by the Alton City Council on March 30 last, fixing the price of rental to be paid by the city for fire bydrants at 348 per hydrant, the waterworks company supplying the city of Alton ean collect only 540 per hydrant. The original ordinance allowed the company 340, but the amendment was made by the Council, with the intention to pay the company 38. By an oversight in recording the ordinance the amendment was omitted and the printed ordinance, as signed by the officials, allows but 340 per hydrant.

Receiver T. A. Taylor of the Waterworks Company has retised to accept a reduction of the price, refusing the warrant issued by Comptroller Grossrau in payment until the Madison County Circuit Court has reviewed the case.

Plan to Prevent Control of the Out

Several conferences of influential produc ers of lead are reported to have been held

A special telegram to The Republic from Medors, Ill., states that Frank Kiechle of Arenzville, Ill., and his daughter, Mrs. Arenzville, Ill., and his daughter, Mrs. James Casey of St. Louis, were united yesteroay after having been lost to each other for twenty-three years.

Years ago, when the Klechles were residents of Chandlerville, Ill., Mrs. Casey, then an infant, was, at her mother's death, placed in an orphanage at Quincy, Ill. After several years the child was removed without her father's knowledge to an institution in St. Louis. She grew up here, and was married to James Casey.

In the meantime, Klechle scarched in vain for his daughter. No one was able to give him any information as to her whereabouts. A rew years ago he located at Arensville. While on a visit to Chandlerville last week Mrs. Casey learned that her father resided in the neighboring town of Arenaville. Bhe called up her parent on the long-distance telephone, and arranged for the reunion, which took place yesterday.
